Biography: Freelance writer and editor from Mount Pearl, Newfoundland. Began my career in 2013 after a six-month editorial internship at The Walrus. I have published two novels, short stories, and articles in a variety of publications such as The Literary Review of Canada and Maisonneuve. I have also edited novels and anthologies. I specialize in supernatural horror and Newfoundland history/culture.

Selected Publications: The Gut (2020)
After Dark Vapours (2018)
